—Military Spending Total Hits 61 Billion— Senate Votes Extra Five Billions For U.S. Air Force

America Acquiring Secret Weapons Which Assertedly Can 'Conquer The Atmosphere'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate tentatively approved Monday an extra $5,000,000,000 for the military after a senator asserted the United States is acquiring highly secret weapons that can "conquer the atmosphere."

As the senate quit for the day, the total for military spending remained at a record $61,103,856,030 level. The $5,000,000,000 extra—that is, beyond the amount the house has voted—would be added to the amounts already set aside for expanding the nation's air power.

A number of amendments went over for action later, probably Tuesday.

Hearings On Price Boosts Are Ordered

Capehart Amendment Repeal Is Refused

Douglas Leaves Floor
Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) had planned to offer amendments to take from $600,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 from the bill, asserting that the budget should be examined carefully "to see whether we're paying too much for the preparedness we're getting."

Douglas was engaged in a floor debate with Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo)—who spoke of the secret weapons—when he uttered a sudden cry and left the floor. Douglas returned later, flushed but silent. Aids suggested he had been shocked by remarks of O'Mahoney, floor manager for the bill.

O'Mahoney had said he hoped that Douglas' proposed amendments would not be interpreted as a sign of discord and division by communist propaganda. He assured the senate later that he had intended no reflection on Douglas.

Desk Piled High
Douglas indicated his amendments would knock out flight pay for administrative officers of the air force, hold down travel allowances to the amount actually spent, trim research funds by 5 per cent, and possibly reduce the $2,942,000,000 set up in the bill for "expediting production."

His desk piled high with exhibits of new military equipment, Sen. O'Mahoney disclosed that bombing planes now operate two and a half times as fast and at two and a half times the altitude of World War II types.

O'Mahoney, who led the bill through committee and is its floor champion, showed senators a new-type rubber disc for dropping gasoline supplies. He held up a miniature new armored tank model, a lightweight "walkie-talkie," and a recently perfected medical dressing.

Pressman Injured In Knife Mishap

Leonard Dougherty, 2732 South Eleventh, was described as in fairly good condition at Lincoln General hospital Monday night following an accident in which he seriously cut his abdomen in a pressroom accident at the Journal-Star Printing company.

According to other pressmen, Dougherty was engaged in cutting the end off a roll of newsprint when the knife he was using slipped.

He was rushed to a physician for treatment and later to Lincoln General hospital. The accident occurred Monday morning.

Newsman's 'Swell' Tomatoes Falter

All summer long William J. McVicker, The Lincoln Star's wire editor, boasted about his "swell tomatoes." "Best in the state," he told staff members, who listened in polite—but bored—silence.

So proud was McVicker of his tomatoes that he carried a basket of them, and some other things he grew, to the state fair.

When the judging smoke cleared away Friday night, McVicker found he won the following awards:

Yellow sweet corn: County, first; state, first.

Egg plants: County, first, state, third.

Red table beets: County, first.

Green beans: County, second; state, fourth.

Yellow onions: County, third; state, fifth.

Green peppers: County, second; state, fifth.

Seed cucumbers: County, fourth.

Red tomatoes: County, third.

"What happened to your tomatoes, Mac?" someone asked.

"Oh, those. . . Say, you oughta see my sweet corn," he began, still bragging.

OFF IN RAIN TO ANSWER A BURNING QUESTION—Two ancient autos, a 1913 Stanley Steamer (left) driven by Jack Brause, 76, and a 1911 Stoddard Dayton (right) driven by Rube De Launty, 70, get the green flag from Chicago Mayor Martin Kennelly (on curb) as they started a race to New York City Monday, in a downpour of rain. The drivers seek to answer a burning question of grandfathers' day—is the steam auto better than the gas buggy? Girl in Stoddard Dayton is a model who will not make the trip. (AP Wirephoto Monday Night.)

Man Pays For Fair He Saw 15 Years Ago

An unidentified man's conscience apparently caught up with him after 15 years.

The story is told by F. T. Anderson, 1235 Idylwild Drive.

While Anderson was selling tickets at the main gate at the state fair last Thursday, a man drove up alone in his car.

He bought a ticket for himself and his car. Then he bought another ticket for himself.

Noting Anderson's quizzical look, the man explained that 15 years ago he had gotten into the fair by sneaking a ride on a load of machinery.

Now he wanted to pay up.

A.F. Intelligence Officer Outlines Policy 'Circle'

Maj. Edward M. Parmelee, intelligence officer for volunteer air reserve training unit No. 9736, outlined for unit members Monday night "a complete circle" in U. S. foreign policy within the last 100 years.

Nordquist has been described as one of the outstanding statisticians in the agricultural estimates division of the bureau of economics. He got his start in agricultural economics under the tutelage of A. E. Anderson, state-federal crop statistician in Lincoln.

In Nebraska today, Nordquist said Monday, there are about 4 million cattle, including a crop of one and a half million calves. In sheep-feeding, the state is duplicating its 1950 record of being at the top with 650,000 out-of-state animals.

The hog figure (including pigs) is near six and a half million. Add to this fact, Nordquist points out, that Nebraska is a greater grass country now than we've ever had.

Began With Triple A
Nordquist got his start in government agricultural work in 1933 with the Triple-A agricultural program established by President Roosevelt as part of a New Deal measure to combat inflation.

After 10 years with the local office, Nordquist went to Washington to work under the then director of the program, C. L. Harland. In 1943, Nordquist took over the livestock section and has run it since.

Asked what the statistics adjustment had to do with the price of beef, Nordquist replied that livestock prices, like most others, fluctuates in a vicious circle depending on the wealth of the times.

What it amounts to, he said, is that when people have money, they eat beef. But when the prices are high on the beef, that's when the people have the money. That applies also to other kinds of meat, such as pork, mutton, etc.

But when prices are down, and the supply is up, the demand is low, mainly because there still isn't money enough to buy the beef.

Nordquist didn't say there was any moral to the story, but it might be that regardless of the price of beef, it still isn't being eaten.

Ancient Autos Chug Toward New York City

JACKSON, Mich.—(INS)—A 1911 Stoddard Dayton was reported to have thrown "a wheel" and screaming for a wrecker "a mile outside of Jackson Monday night, while its opponent in a Chicago-to-New York race, a 1913 Stanley Steamer, slogged into town, ending the contest's first leg.

Jackson police said a wrecker was being sent out to tow the stranded car in.

NILES, Mich.—(AP)—Two old-timers urged their old time automobiles on Monday night after a slow start on a race from Chicago to New York.

The drivers, 76-year-old Jack Brause in his 1913 Stanley Steamer and Rube De Launty, 70, in a gasoline-powered 1911 Stoddard Dayton, got off to a crawling start in the rain amid Chicago's loop traffic. Mayor Martin H. Kennelly waved the starter's flag at 9 a.m.

They went through Gary, Ind., at a fair clip and picked up speed after that time, hitting something close to 40 miles an hour.

The contestants stopped for lunch at Michigan City.

The race is scheduled to end next Monday at Rockefeller Plaza in New York City.

Trio Youths Escape State Reformatory

Three 20-year-old state reformatory inmates escaped custody Monday evening in an institution truck while on a work detail at Haskerville, according to reformatory officials.

The escapees are: Thomas E. Jarvis, 20, sentenced April 13 from Lancaster county to one year on a no-fund check conviction.

Bill Sanchez, 20, serving one to two years beginning Feb. 28 on a larceny from an auto conviction in Scotts Bluff county.

Max Perea, 20, serving two years for car theft in Kimball county. He was sentenced Dec. 4, 1950.

The trio disappeared about 7 p.m. from a corn picking party at Haskerville, according to reformatory officials. The truck was found shortly thereafter at the airport intersection with U. S. 6.

State patrolmen, Lincoln city police and Lancaster sheriff officers joined in the search.

Escapees Get 2 More Years In Penitentiary

Two reformatory inmates who Aug. 28 tried a daring break by smashing the front gate with a truck were sentenced to two additional years in the state penitentiary Monday.

Joe L. Jimerfield, 18, of Lebanon, Ore., and Olin L. Tillman, 24, of Quitman, Miss., both pleaded guilty to escape charges before District Judge Harry R. Ankeny.

Jimerfield was wounded in the neck during the break by a reformatory guard. Tillman escaped injury. Both were captured a few minutes after the escape attempt.

Judge Ankeny emphasized the foolishness of the try for freedom and told them: "You are both very lucky."

Jimerfield was serving a one to five year sentence for forgery from Scotts Bluff county and Tillman a one to three year sentence for bigamy from Cass county.

Communists' 11th Charge Of Neutrality Violation Rejected

Enemy Virtually Refuses To Change Site

TOKYO (Tuesday) —(INS)—The communist armistice delegation virtually slammed the door on resumption of the Korea cease-fire talks today by demanding that the United Nations meet its terms or face responsibility for "all consequences."

A four-and-a-half-hour long Peiping radio broadcast carried a statement by the red delegation giving the clear implication that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's proposal for a new conference site is being rejected.

The only immediate comment from Ridgway's headquarters was that "if Kim Il Sung and Peng Teh-huai didn't sign it, it doesn't count." Gens. Kim and Peng are the top red commanders in Korea.

Broadcast In Il's Name
The communist blast was broadcast in the name of Gen. Nam Il's red truce negotiators.

A virtual ultimatum to the allies at the conclusion of the statement said:

"We want to declare to responsible members of the United Nations forces side that negotiations can proceed . . . only if (the allies) change their arrogant (unconditional attitude), abandon their attempt to divert attention, and sincerely and responsibly deal with a series of provocative incidents."

"Otherwise the United Nations forces will definitely bear full responsibility for all consequences resulting from their procrastination and obstruction of negotiations and of breaking up the negotiations."

Broken Off Aug. 23
The talks were broken off by chief communist Delegate Nam Il on Aug. 23, the day after the reds charged an allied plane "bombed" Kaesong.

This charge and other following it have been branded by Ridgway and Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, chief allied delegate, either as deliberately manufactured by the communists or as wholly unjustified.

It was a desire to find a site where the communists would not be able to cook up an "incident" and then complain about it that led Ridgway to propose an entirely new site for the conference.

Ridgway's proposal for a new and "truly neutral" conference site not under direct communist control was termed "diversionary" and a "new trick."

Ford, Chrysler Ask Boost
WASHINGTON —(AP)—Ford and Chrysler notified the government Monday that they intend to increase car prices. General Motors and other companies are expected to follow suit.

New price lists were filed with the office of price stabilization (CPS), which only last Friday authorized manufacturers to raise prices of new passenger cars an estimated average of 5 to 6 per cent if increased production costs justified the boost.

Gustavson: Don't Fail To Try:
The only failure in life is the failure to try.

With those words of advice, University of Nebraska Chancellor R. G. Gustavson Monday night welcomed more than 1,100 freshmen and 200 junior college transfer students at the new student convocation in the coliseum.

In asking the students to be proud of the University's tradition, Chancellor Gustavson recounted the history of the school with its internationally famous associates like Dean Roscoe Pound, law school, and Gen. J. J. Pershing, military science department.

"The University will ask you to think for yourself—not just repeat what your instructor told you earlier," the chancellor told his attentive audience.

It is most important to see things from a different point of view, not just for now but throughout life, he said.

"Get ready to enter your chosen profession now, whether it be teaching, medicine or engineering," counseled the chancellor, "and then make this training-on-the-job."

Prior to the address, fledgling students were welcomed to the university by Mary F. Hubka, Beatrice, president of Cobel, Lincolns, student council and senior class president.

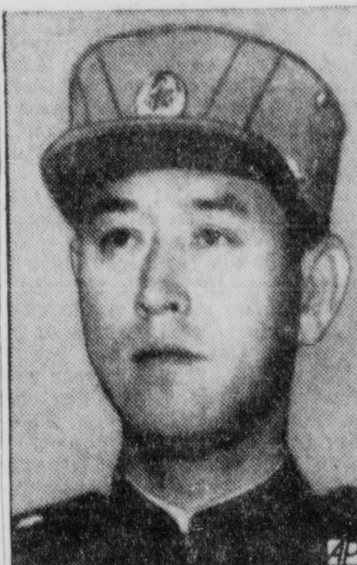

A musical interlude was presented by Ray Young, music student from Alliance, at the organ.

Two selections were presented by a quartet consisting of Jack Anderson, Eugene Kuyper, Helmut Sienknecht and Earl Jenkins, all of the university music department.

Group singing was led by Aaron Schmidt, Dr. Arthur A. Hitchcock, director of junior division and counseling service, presided.

Earlier in the day, the new students met with their advisors and arranged for individual meetings later in the week. Arrangements were also for later physical examinations.

Highlights of Tuesday's activities will include an orientation session in Love library auditorium and a barbecue dinner on the ag college campus, followed by group singing, talks and movies.

80 Red Jets Are Bested

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(Tuesday)—(INS)—More than 80 communist jet planes swarming 100 miles south of their Manchurian sanctuary were defeated Monday in one of the Korea war's longest and most bitter dog-fights.

It was the second day in a row that the sweep-wing Russian type jets streaked across the Yalu in almost twice their usual strength to challenge United Nations aircraft.

Thirty-fifth air force F-86 Sabrejets battled the communist warplanes for a half hour over the 40-mile distance between Anju on the Chongchon river and the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

Col. Francis S. Gabreski, Oil City, Pa., America's leading air ace, who commanded the allied jets, described the combat as "one of the most ferocious battles I've ever been in."

No Allied Losses
Two enemy planes were damaged in the hair-raising action which ranged from 34,000 to less than 1,000 feet above the ground, bringing the two-day toll to five red jets hit. There were no allied losses.

On the ground the allies pushed deeper into the shattered "Iron Triangle," former red buildup area in central Korea where the communists launched a number of counter attacks last week.

Army officers sifted reports that the enemy has been using rockets—as they did in past months during big offensives—but the exact type of rocket employed and just who was launching them was still under investigation.

Hamilton New Attorney For Liquor Work
A full time assistant attorney general to work with the state liquor control commission was announced Monday. In the past, the commission has only had part time service.

Ed G. Hamilton, 42, will take over his duties as assistant attorney general on Oct. 1. Attorney General C. S. Beck told The Star, Hamilton is a 1936 graduate of the University of Nebraska college of law and has been in private practice at Holdrege.

He is married and has two children. Prior to attending the state university his home was at Geneva, Nev.

Hamilton will have his office with the liquor commission rather than with the attorney general, it was said. He also will be paid from funds appropriated to the commission.

Guard Units Are Needed For Korea

Last Winter Fighters Are Coming Back Home

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The army plans to levy upon national guardsmen and regular units in this country in order to bring home before this coming winter "all personnel who endured the bitter combat conditions in Korea last winter."

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, said "the requirement for rotation of men from overseas" was an "overriding need."

The general's policy was outlined in a letter to Sen. Dvorshak (R-Ida). The senator had protested the calling up of individual Idaho national guardsmen as combat replacements.

30,000 Each Month
"It is necessary," Gen. Collins said, "for the army to continue to levy upon national guard units and regular army units in the United States in order to carry out a reasonable program for rotation of those men who have fought through last winter's campaign."

The rotation plan, the general said, "is currently requiring replacement of some 30,000 men and officers each month. I don't think anyone will dispute the urgency of this need."

In Lincoln, Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, state adjutant general, said there were no indications that the Nebraska national guard would be recalled, adding that there "is nothing to suspect that it is in the wind."

There are about 3,000 guardsmen in Nebraska, all members of the 34th infantry division.

New State Scale Sites Are Selected

Five sites have been obtained by the state highway department on which scales will be erected to permit checking of weight loads on trucks. One scale at North Platte has been in operation since last winter and another will be ready for use at Holdrege in a few days.

New sites for which land has been obtained are at Fremont, Oreadpolis and Wahoo. The department told the Star Monday that they completed the transaction for the Wahoo site earlier in the day.

Cost of the scales will average about $15,000 each including the scale and a building to house it, grading, driveways, lighting, etc.

When the present five scales are operating, the department spokesman said, a check will be possible on roads carrying the heaviest truck traffic. Plans have not been completed for additional sites at the present time.

Sites Told
The Holdrege scale is west of the town and will permit weighing of trucks using highways Nos. 6, 34 and 23. The North Platte scale is on U. S. 30.

Comparison of Individual and Group Motivation

By J. Gordon Roberts

What bearing does such a family fracas as that described yesterday have upon the instigation of wars?

Prior to the Russian invasion of Finland, Russian leaders probably denied even to themselves their hostility toward tiny Finland. At least, such an attitude shall be assumed true for the purpose of illustration.

The Russians created border incidents—just as a man denying a guilty hostile feeling toward his mother provokes his wife's anger, thus justifying his subconscious anger.

Finally the Finns retaliated. Russian leaders, forgetting their own provocative action—just as does the neurotic husband—found an "excuse" for actively expressing their hostility toward Finland.

Thus Finland was invaded, many lives were lost, much property damaged, and an emotional outburst was consummated upon the international rather than upon the individual level.

Russia, without any foreknowledge of lend-lease help, invited the tremendously-destructive and desperately-dangerous invasion by Germany, as a result of its puny showing against Finland.

Irrational anger may obviously never be resolved by force of arms. Although peace may not even be feasible without better understanding of ourselves, force is clearly futile as a means of creating understanding.

In my opinion, it is for this reason that Christ admonished his followers to "turn the other cheek."

Widening No. 30 Estimated At $3,250,000

Lack Funds for Grand Island, N.P. Project

Traffic toll on U.S. 30 between Grand Island and North Platte has led to a demand from that area that the highway be widened "at once."

State Engineer Harold L. Aitken answered with a statement that the 91 miles could be widened and resurfaced at current prices for about $3,250,000, but that the department does not have the resources to carry out all of this work immediately.

"Widening Nebraska's major highways from a 20 to a 24 foot width and placing a 3-inch asphalt concrete resurfacing on the resulting 24 feet costs more in 1951 than constructing the original 20-foot-wide concrete did 20 years ago," Aitken said.

Aitken agreed that the highway should be widened, but said there were many other miles on the same route and other major highways that should be widened at once.

An example of skyrocketing costs was given by Aitken on the seven miles west of Kearney on U.S. 30 which were built in 1930 and 1931. Cost of right-of-way, engineering, grading, culverts and 20-foot concrete pavement was a little more than $183,000, he said.

In 1948, Aitken said, maintenance costs of the seven miles were more than $13,000 with about $9,000 going for patching the concrete. In 1949 maintenance costs were almost $21,000 with $16,000 being spent for patching.

Because maintenance costs were uneconomical, he said, this section of highway was widened and resurfaced in 1950. Although all widening was on one side of the highway, the cost was $245,000 or 134 per cent of the original cost, Aitken said.

The state engineer pointed out that in 1930, when the highway was paved, daily traffic over it was 1,148 vehicles of which 86 were trucks and busses. In 1950, the daily average was 3,075 of which 685 were trucks and busses. Passenger cars increased 225 per cent and trucks and busses 797 per cent in the 20-year period, he pointed out.

Only eight of the 86 trucks in 1930 were vehicles with a rated capacity of three tons or more, he said. In 1950, he continued, 300 axles carrying eight tons or more passed over the road in an average day.

Aitken said that since World War II the department has been awarding contracts for widening major highways as rapidly as possible considering highway income and highway needs of all kinds.

"If a contract for widening and resurfacing

Taxation Committee Meeting Set Sept. 29

Meeting of the taxation committee of the legislative council will be held here Saturday morning, Sept. 29. Sen. Earl Lee, Fremont, is chairman.

The committee will survey the state's taxation system and study methods used by other states to obtain revenue.

Other members of the committee are: Sen. Charles Tvrdik, Omaha; C. E. Metzger, Louisville; Ralph W. Hill, Hebron; R. H. Kreutz, Giltner; John E. Beaver, Beemer; and Otto Prohs, Gering.

Kinsey Heads New Reactivation Group

A citizen's airbase reactivation committee was approved by the city council, through a resolution passed Monday.

The committee, to be headed by Councilman C. W. D. Kinsey, will work in liaison with air force officials in connection with the re-activation of the Lincoln base.

Other members of the committee are Archie J. Bailey, Bennett; S. Martin, John Lawlor, Arthur A. Dobson, A. Q. Schimmel and Mayor Victor Anderson as ex-officio member.

between Grand Island and Alda is awarded after bids are taken September 13, the department will have provided for widening more than 40 miles of U.S. 30 between North Platte and Grand Island since 1947," Aitken concluded.

Twenty years ago, Aitken said, the 20-foot-wide design was considered adequate for existing and contemplated traffic. Nebraska's highway engineers were foresighted, he said, because they didn't build a large mileage of concrete pavement 16 and 18 feet wide as many states did in the early days of highway construction.

He said that now the 24-foot width is recommended by highway administrators the nation over as the absolute minimum width necessary for carrying volumes such as the 4,725 vehicles a day which passed between Kearney and Odessa in July, 1951.

Resurfacing Of Three Arterials Gets Council O.K.

'Tough'—and Silly

There was a twang of fall in the air—the bluest of blue skies washed clean of all impurities—a mellow sun to remind America, young and old—and beautiful—that football was just around the corner.

If that were not enough, then an inspired Associated Press writer on the west coast did his mite to set the pulses to pounding with anticipation of things to come. Read his saga, then weep or laugh, as the spirit moves you:

"The sturdiest limb may be gone but the tree's not down . . .

"A week ago the University of Washington football team was loaded like a mountaineer's rifle. Then Don Heinrich, All-America quarterback and national collegiate passing champion, came off the bottom of a pile-up Saturday with an injured right shoulder.

"He'll be out for at least six weeks—and possibly all season.

"Experts were trampled in the race to write Washington off as a threat for national honors, a Pacific coast conference pennant and a trip to the Rose Bowl. But Head Coach Howie Odel put it this way:

"We'll still be tough."

Yes—tough, and possibly silly—or should the word be "dizzy"? Only a few days ago, the nation was rocked back on its heels by what was called the "Scandal of West Point." It seems that some of West Point's undergraduates failed to comply with the honor code and found themselves out in the cold—out of school—and out of luck. Theirs had been the unpardonable error of snitching assistance—improper assistance—in the labors of the classroom. Congress was shocked, and whenever the sensibilities up on Capitol Hill are offended, then congress fills the air with several million brave, noble words. For a week national honor got a scrubbing—ears, neck, and mouth. Then the scene changed. The air was filled with footballs instead of congressional words. That thud which was audible was the impact of a solid leather toe against an inflated piece of pigskin, instead of the seat of the pants of a bunch of young men vainly trying ing to cover a lot of territory in the schoolroom and out on the football field.

Mr. Heinrich was at the bottom of the pile, not exactly the classic spot for the national collegiate passing champion. But "We'll still be tough." Hurryin' Hugh McElhenney, who scampered to a new Pacific coast rushing record in 1950, will still be among those present, and "when he moves, the breeze sidesteps him." Lean Dick Sprague, counted one of the country's finest defensive backs, now switched to an offensive halfback role, can match speed with McElhenney, which means in down-to-earth terms that when he starts running, the breeze gets out of his way. And to top it off, there is Bill Earley, known in those parts as the "cruncher of the works," big, solid, eager. "We'll still be tough."

We yield to no one in our love of football—a grand game for those who play it and those who watch it—by and large the greatest of collegiate sports—an observation which millions of Americans will substantiate, or actually do confirm every weekend during the fall with their long green. Aye, a grand game, far too wonderful to be spoiled by sports writers who work themselves up into a fever. In all of our virtue, most of us love to win, and we are afraid that now and then we love to win so much that we're not too discriminating in placing first things first, or in placing the emphasis where it should be on the college campus. Give us a winning football team and we'll guarantee that 90 per cent of the books in the classroom will go uncracked.

P. S. What a shame it was that the writing chap who did that piece was not assigned to cover the Japanese peace treaty conference a few miles down the road, out on the west coast! Had he had an opportunity, Acheson would have come out from that conference smelling like a rose to all nostrils, even Joe McCarthy's, and John Foster Dulles might have acquired world rating for passing, receiving, rushing, crunching, and punting!

Superior Yankee Tanks

An old friend late last week who has worked on the mechanical side of the newspaper for years said:

"Why not pipe down on these fantastic new weapons? Why place so much emphasis upon the strength of Soviet Russia? They're not so much. In my judgment, we could lick them with one hand tied behind us. Why do the newspapers scare the American public?"

They are all good questions which hardly need an answer, nevertheless. When any people get the notion they can lick another with a hand tied behind them, they need their heads examined. In olden days, that individual or those individuals were playing with dynamite—in our world, he or they are only juggling atomic bombs—and a lot of other deadly stuff.

When it gets down to the question of new, fantastic weapons, it no longer is a carefully guarded secret that Uncle Sam has come up with a number that represent the last word in wholesale destruction. Senator Joe O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, not exactly a fire-eater or a warmonger, was on the front page Monday morning with an announcement that the United States has "new weapons" which, in his judgment, insure victory against communism. Mr. O'Mahoney is chairman of the senate military appropriations sub-committee, and ought to know what he is talking about. One of his favorite expressions is that he weighs his words. Earlier at San Francisco, the president had spoken about startling new weapons which are "fantastic." And Senator Young, also in on the act, let the newsmen know that the "terrible" new weapons were not guided missiles as had been suggested in some circles.

Drew Pearson was back from Europe and from a vacation. His first column since his return will appear on this page Wednesday. He writes that what he saw in Europe has given him fresh hope. On the radio late Sunday, Mr. Pearson took the wraps off one of the new fantastic weapons—a shell which sprays the countryside, reaching into the ravines, the crevices, every conceivable shelter, with fatal results. He closed that broadcast with the statement that the doughboys' "foxhole," of legend and song, of security and comfort, was a thing of the past.

It is one thing to be aware of a nation's strength. And this nation has great strength, great scientists, great resourcefulness, great imagination, great initiative. It is a giant in every sense—in brute power on the primitive level when circumstances reduce it to the starkness of a primitive struggle—in resources, including both the materials and the machines to do the job of production, which in the final end is the one decisive factor of modern, mechanized warfare—but more important, in the common levels of intelligence of man. It is another thing to convert a sense of strength into the belief of invincibility, and a disregard for the results of modern warfare.

There has just been an amazing demonstration after months of self-examination by the American people of the handling of their affairs in the international field, that Uncle Sam stands high in the esteem of the people of the world. It was not the fact that we have the best bombs, the best guns, the best planes, or the best tanks that inspired 48 other nations to throw in their lot with us. It was the belief, amazingly widespread and universally held, that here in this country there is a standard of decency, a love of justice, and a great reverence for the sanctity of life. That is why, in marked contrast to America's role in 1919, we were the leader in a concerted effort to promote peace, and lasting peace, in the Far East. We were the leader, not the saboteur, of a concerted peace treaty between a defeated nation and peace-loving peoples joined in the United Nations. And we found at that time that while Uncle Sam commanded respect and enjoyed the faith of 48 nations of different races, Uncle Joe Stalin did not fare so well. His reputation was not quite so good.

In our new-found strength, may the day never come when throughout this world the name of Uncle Sam inspires a chill in the thoughts of hundreds of millions of people.

Working In The Garden

At Wilber Sunday, representatives of the Western Bohemian Fraternal association, all of Czech blood, adopted a resolution calling for the immediate release of William Oatis, an American Associated Press correspondent. The resolution was similar in content to one approved at another Czech gathering at Prague earlier in the summer.

Those resolutions express the real spirit of the Bohemian people, lovers of freedom and of justice.

Czechoslovakia's representative at the Japanese peace conference, when interrogated about Newspaperman Oatis, ran true to form. He said the American people need to have no concern over his treatment. "He is probably working in the vegetable garden, or more likely doing some translating," she told a United Press writer. That leaves a lot to be desired when information is wanted. That may satisfy the government of communist Czechoslovakia but it falls far short of American ideas. And it wouldn't go down with the freedom-loving Czech before his government fell into the hands of the communists. The only point in the Oatis case is that he did not have a fair trial, was denied the same protection that communists receive in this country.

Beg Pardon!

In commenting upon the refusal of a senate committee to give up tax exemption which the members of congress enjoy in connection with an annual $2,500 expense account, above and beyond salary, either the printer or the editor made it worse than it is. The expense allowance is $2,500, not $25,000 as it appeared in this column!

Turn The Other Cheek

Just when things were beginning to settle down for Secretary of State Dean Acheson, another blow was dealt him from an entirely unexpected source. Three democrats, Senators Paul Douglas of Illinois, Harley Kilgore of West Virginia and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, voiced views which added up to a complaint that the state department was too conservative. "From my point of view," Humphrey was quoted as saying, "the state department is queer—it does not venture forth, as well as it might, with creative and imaginative ideas. Sometimes it is addicted to the love of the past and the security it gives."

Mr. Acheson must be shaking his head and wondering these days about fickle fortune, which smiles on him neither from the right nor the left.

Washington Merry-Go-Round— American Legion Has Served America Well

GUEST COLUMNIST: ERLE COCKE, JR.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Today's column is written by Erle Cocke, Jr., national commander of the American Legion.

WASHINGTON—It's very seldom the American Legion gets the chance to tell its side of the story—the side some folks don't bother to determine.

Pressure group! Warmongers! Treasury raiders! Hoodlums! We've been called all those names in our 33 years of life. But, as Al Smith used to say: "Let's look at the record."

Pressure group? To this one we plead guilty, all 4,000,000 legionnaires and auxiliaries.

We pressured into being the spending of $87,165,759.18, raised by our own efforts, to help the nation's needy children.

We organized more than 16,500 junior baseball teams—teams that gave supervised recreation with citizenship-training for more than 1,000,000 teenage boys every summer.

We sponsored nearly 4,000 Boy Scout troops.

We created a boys' state program through 18,000 selected high school students who "learn by doing" the way our government operates.

We conduct an annual national oratorical contest in which 350,000 high school students write essays on the constitution and bill of rights.

Sure, we're a pressure group. Pressure against juvenile delinquency.

The vacationing Drew Pearson will know what it means to be called a "pressure" group. Throughout the years his pressure has caused fear and consternation in fascist and communist circles. And today his "friendship balloons" are piercing the iron curtain in Czechoslovakia—into the very heart of communism.

No, but like our great secretary of defense, Gen. George C. Marshall, we admit pressurizing for preparedness. We authored the universal military training bill and hope to see a thoroughly integrated program become law before another year has passed. Of course the Kremlin has its own slant on "warmongering" and we are proud to be No. 1 on their warmonger list.

The American Legion has been a great and constant force, at home and abroad, for Godliness, for Christian philosophies, for normal backbone and for civic virtue. Perhaps some people call that warmongering.

It was the American Legion that brought to attention the communist infiltration into our labor unions and farmer guilds. We exposed the communist infiltration in our legal profession and in our courts. It was the Legion that exposed the way communist teachers infiltrated our schools and we formed neighborhood groups of vigilant parents to defeat the communist kiddie-klubs.

It was a commander of one of the 17,330 American Legion posts who started the longshoremen's refusal to load or unload communist ships of supplies bound for communist troops against our own soldiers.

... Yes, we have fought communism until it no longer menaces the free world we live in.

Treasury raiders? No, but we do demand that wounded and disabled service men and women get fair treatment. We were the authors of the G.I. bill of rights which has provided higher education and vocational training for 7,500,000 veterans of World War I, the greatest stimulus to education in history. As a result you see no veterans of World War II selling apples on street corners.

Fair compensation for war wounds has always been our demand. Hospitalization and domiciliary care, yes. But in all fairness, is that treasury raiding?

Hoodlums? There never has been a city that housed the national convention of the American Legion that has not asked us back again and again. Miami, our host city this year, has invited us to make Miami the perennial convention city and according to their editorial writers and those of other cities, American Legionnaires are the best behaved of any group holding a national convention.

And why not? After all, the American Legion is America. Certainly no one else has a finer cross-section of citizens—membership comprising the president; 25 state governors; 55 U.S. senators and 237 congressmen. Along with them we have industrialists, labor leaders, army, navy and air force commanders, doctors, lawyers, scientists, grocers, butchers, authors, publishers, engineers, mechanics, press and radio executives, sports celebrities, farmers, truck drivers, laborers, columnists and just about every other category known to our country.

Thrice we have been called upon to defend our country in war. Thrice we have given America victory over sinister forces. Thrice more shall we do the same—that is necessary.

We are proud that in the past two years we have collected and distributed more than 10,000,000 toys—distributed them to the underprivileged children of Europe and the Pacific.

We are proud that it was Legionnaire Drew Pearson who aided the American Legion in getting this program under way. We are proud that it was he and our past national commander, George Craig, who originated this program.

Extraordinary? Legionnaires think not. Just the normal efforts of the men and women who shouldered new convictions about the way American life should be, after they had shouldered arms.

That's the American Legion many of the general public do not know. That's the American Legion that has been called all those epithets over the years.

Pressure group? Treasury raiders? Warmongers? Hoodlums? We rest our case.

Treaty Conference May Split East, West

By MARQUIS CHILDS

SAN FRANCISCO.—Homeward bound, having done what they came here to do, many of the delegates to the Japanese peace conference are troubled by doubts. They wonder what this peace means for the future.

It is possible that for reasons not contemplated at all when the conference was first called, this may prove to be an occasion of great historic importance. John Foster Dulles and the others who planned a public signing for the pact assumed that the Russians would decline to attend.

But they came in the person of the communist mechanical man, Andrei Gromyko. It may prove to be the last diplomatic meeting with the west in which the Soviet Union participates. One of the most perceptive and thoughtful of the western delegates considered the western delegates ended a possible dividing line in relations between Russia and the west.

His theory is that it marks the end of the postwar era, when the Soviet Union waged a never-ceasing struggle on every diplomatic front. Now, so goes the theory, they have been shown once and for all that they cannot succeed with the tactics of divide and delay and obstruct. The diplomatic door has been slammed shut. Their failure has been more conspicuous than at any time in the past.

All that Gromyko did, with a rather weak echo from the Poles and the Czechs, was to make a record to be read in the light of what happens in the future. Repeatedly, in his conference speeches and in his wind-up press conference, he said that the treaty was a pact not for peace, but for aggressive war by the United States and Britain.

With the diplomatic door closed, two possible courses of action for the Russians can be seen. One is to accept the defeat, convinced that time is on the communist side. This means prosecution of the cold war from a somewhat more remote position; using every device of propaganda and concealed force; taking care, however, to stop short of moves that would precipitate open and all-out warfare.

The second choice is action. Since they could not win with words and diplomacy, the Russians will resort to naked force. They will take the chances that mean war. The western delegate attempting to analyze the Russian response in the event of the second choice goes so far as to use the fateful phrase, "another Pearl Harbor."

At his press conference, Gromyko was asked whether the treaty meant war between the Soviet union and the United States in the Far East. He replied that he had already answered that question in pointing out that the pact was a "plan or a scheme in preparation for a new war" in the Pacific.

How seriously this can be taken no one can say. Russian propagandists have repeatedly called the North Atlantic alliance a pact for aggressive war. They are reckless with their threats.

Nevertheless, certain recent history is relevant in any appraisal. When he threw out the Korean proposal in June, Jacob Malik, Russia's delegate to the United Nations, laid great stress on the old thesis of co-existence of capitalist and communist countries. Malik showed annoyance when reports of his speech played up the Korean treaty rather than the co-existence line. Since then, other communist spokesmen have stressed co-existence.

Here was an approach on which great importance was obviously placed. Muffled in typically Russian circumlocution, it may have represented a shift in the line for at least a temporary truce with the west.

If Gromyko's words here can be taken at face value, that possibility has now been foreclosed. This lends weight to the conjecture that what happened here was indeed an end of the old and a beginning of something new.

It may be idle to speculate on any emotion visible in the mask of Gromyko's face as presented for the view of the west. But to one observer it did seem, at his press conference on the stage of the auditorium of the veterans' building, as though he were putting more than a propaganda stress on his words. Repetitive and stale as those words were, they came out charged with something that may have been emotion or strain beyond the mechanical behavior of the conditioned communist.

Garden Glances With The Moon

By CECILE PARRISH SWINGLE

"Did you ever stop to think what makes a day seem bright? It isn't just the sunshine—though, of course, that helps, all right! It's not just meeting friends you like, exchanging news and jokes—No sir! It's little thoughtful things you've done for other folks!"

EARLY this morning and until 3:12 this afternoon, the moon will be in the earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Capricorn. It is second lunar quarter. At 3:12 p.m. it leaves Capricorn and enters the barren and airy sign, Aquarius. This afternoon would be an ideal time for a little weeding, pulling, of which we have plenty and to spare! And since Aquarius is a fixed sign, it would please me mightily if the carpenter who are building us a combination greenhouse and tool shed at the east door of our garage would get the glass in sometime between 3:12 this afternoon and Thursday afternoon at 5:21 when the moon will enter the watery and fruitful sign, Pisces. Third lunar quarter will begin Saturday morning at 6:38. Near nine o'clock Saturday night, the moon will enter the fiery and barren sign, Aries. Now you'll have a couple of days to finish up your weeding chores, crab grass, etc., while the moon is in this most barren sign of all. It's also a movable sign so don't waste your time thinking you'll make things permanent on an Aries day—things purchased on an Aries day never seem to last very long, either.

Mrs. Swingle is a fixed sign, it would please me mightily if the carpenter who are building us a combination greenhouse and tool shed at the east door of our garage would get the glass in sometime between 3:12 this afternoon and Thursday afternoon at 5:21 when the moon will enter the watery and fruitful sign, Pisces. If I haven't mentioned dusting roses with rose sulphur lately, it isn't because it's time to put up your dust and sprayer. Far from it! Be just as diligent about this necessary chore through the autumn as you were any week in the spring and summer for the health of your roses. Black spot has been very aggravating this rainy year. Dusting with sulphur now that the temperature is never above 90 degrees is the best treatment you can give your roses to check and prevent its spread. Day lilacs (hemerocallis) for best results should be lifted, divided and replanted every third year. They do, however, give satisfactory blooms in naturalized plantings for years without attention. When planting hemerocallis, 'tis best to prepare the soil to a depth of two feet and give them a supply of your favorite plant food. Do this by working the food through the soil after the holes are dug, and then placing the plant at exactly the same depth it was growing. Each root division should have one stem. There are so many, many new varieties of hemerocallis that it is now possible to have them blooming in one's garden continually through the summer. "Dr. Regal's" orange-yellow blooms greet us during early May and June. The golden yellow blooms of "Florham" arrive during June and July. "Gypsy," with deep orange blooms, is radiant in July and August, and the pale lemon-yellow blooms of "Mrs. W. H. Wyman" open during August and continue into September. Being day-bloomers, these varieties close their flowers about six p.m., hence the common name, "day lily." However, the hybridizers have now given us many evening-bloomers. Among these, I think of "Calypso," with lemon-yellow-blossoms that open in July and early August. "Calypso" is very desirable for cutting and for arrangements, too, should you care.

HOW are your tomatoes? Our picture today was taken in Mr. Gus Johnson's garden at 1431 North Fifteenth last week. This variety is an old and reliable favorite "Oxheart." The vines are over ten feet long! Which makes me think of our climbing tomatoes which are running rampant over the grapevines right now, and it looks as though I shall be in the green tomato business one of these days. So until another day—

Choosing A Senator

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: One of the greatest calamities that could happen to American politics is that we of Nebraska fail to send Governor Val Peterson to the United States senate instead of Hugh Butler. Senator Butler has been too inactive lately. We need a younger man.

Part Of The Show?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Nebraska state fair has gone for another year. Congratulations to the ribbon winners and all those who made the fair worthwhile. But why would anyone throw in an exhibition of an iron lung bearing a human victim (authentic or otherwise) into the grime and raucousness of the midway? To top it off, a brazen "Donation, Please!" was blurted out as curiosity seekers passed through. No suggestion of any kind that the polio fund would benefit. Since when has this dread disease become just another sideshow—or am I just an erratic?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star your words re Messrs. Butler, Wherry, Stefan, Buffett, Miller, and Curtis were good. The editorial tickled my funnybone—a good thing to tickle now and then—when we must groan with a growing Gromyko, sinister soviets, atomic apprehensions, freedom fear, pitiful Potsdams, Yalta yeggs, ad infinitum and ad nauseam. And now more fun for my funnybone! I would not pretend nor presume to compete with you, but we may add since we have had the 4-H's with us—"Help Hurry Harry Home"—"Aching Acheson Alters Agenda Again"—"Billions for Bunk"—"Create a Crisis," "Money for Marshall" etc. Enough said. ## Wesleyan U. Enrollment May Top 600; More Than Forecast

Enrollment at Nebraska Wesleyan university this year is expected to exceed 600, considerably more than administrative officials had predicted last spring.

This was reported Monday by Registrar Helen Luscher as registration for upperclassmen began.

"A good percentage of last year's students are coming back," Mrs. Luscher said "and the male enrollment in the freshman class is somewhat higher than we had anticipated last spring."

Meanwhile, freshmen entered the final days of their annual orientation week.

Freshman and other new students library orientation lectures, took hearing and vision tests and chest X-rays, posed for pictures, and visited with Chancellor Carl C. Bracy.

Freshman will begin the actual registration grind Tuesday and will continue through Wednesday.

Classroom work will begin Thursday morning.

Social activities for all students continue throughout the week with a Barb watermelon feed on tap for Monday night, a W.A.A. new student party Tuesday night, the annual W club get-together Wednesday night and the Y.W.C.A. Big Sister-Little Sister party slated for Thursday at 4 p.m.

GREETINGS—Chancellor Carl C. Bracy of Nebraska Wesleyan university chats with two new students, Dalene Livers of Ashland and Jerry Kroeger of David City. Personal interviews with the chancellor for each new student are a standard part of Wesleyan registration.

Parade, 'Jackie Frost' To Top Annual Fall Fashion Festival

Two new attractions have been added to Lincoln's annual fashion festival, Fall Window Display Night, scheduled to begin Tuesday night at 7:15 p.m.

They are a Fall Fashion parade and the personal appearance of "Jackie Frost."

Forty-two models will ride in the downtown parade, clad in the latest fall fashions and perched on top new convertible automobiles.

Also taking part in the parade will be the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps and three local high school bands.

"Jackie Frost," played by Miss Anita Ackerman, 6518 Baldwin, will personally light each store window with her "magic wand" as she passes through the business section. She will ride a white show horse.

The parade will begin at Fifteenth and N streets, and will travel west on O to Ninth, and then return to the starting point moving east on N street.

Music by Muzak will be provided.

According to unofficial estimates, at least 100,000 persons will be on hand. To handle the large crowd and facilitate movement between the stores, "no parking" signs will be put up on several of Lincoln's downtown streets. City officials are co-operating in every way and extra policemen will be on duty.

Leonard Hines, chairman of the 1951 Fall Window Display Night committee, is hopeful of the biggest turnout in the event's 30 year history. The gala celebration is sponsored by the Lincoln Retail Promotion Council.

"The 1951 Fall Window Display night will be the most lavish ever presented in Lincoln," said Hines. "The Fall Fashion parade and the appearance of 'Jackie Frost' will lend added color to an attraction that has always been known for its gay, festive spirit."

U. of N. Freshmen Get Traffic Rules Booklets

The Lincoln police department Monday distributed local traffic law booklets to freshmen students at the University of Nebraska as a part of new students' week.

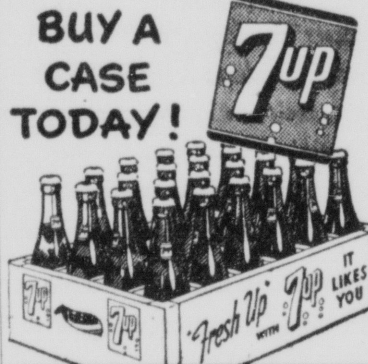

Capt. J. Paul Shively of the traffic department, in a letter to Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, said "all students should be advised of the need of a thorough knowledge of the traffic regulations of Lincoln."

"In this manner, many traffic arrests of students could be avoided," Captain Shively continued. The rule books may also be obtained at the police department and city hall.

PACKARD THUNDERBOLT POWER
means Performance plus...maintenance minus!

There are many things to look for, in a power plant, and the most important of all is... the name of its maker.

Let's Get Better Acquainted Building for the Future with Youth

Perhaps you remember the time you gathered together all the pennies, nickels, and dimes of your personal "piggy bank" and entrusted them to the safe keeping of your first savings account. At that time your banker probably appeared to be a rather awesome individual with all the money in the world right at his finger tips.

The youth of today, however, have an entirely different conception of their bankers. Young men and women engaged in 4-H Club, Future Farmers of America activities and Institutional on Farm Training Programs for Veterans and Students have found their bankers sincerely interested in their work and eager to help whenever possible. Many students have become acquainted with banks through special bank sponsored school projects and motion pictures such as "Pay to the Order of . . ." and "How Banks Serve."

In an ever increasing area of activity your bank, as other Nebraska banks, is helping today's youth on the road to a sound and prosperous future.

Seek Antelope
Flood Survey
Before Jan. 1

... Council Approves

Informal approval was given by the city council Monday for a survey to be made of the Antelope valley watershed to determine methods of halting future floods in the watershed.

Cost of the survey, proposed by Alvord Birdick and Howson of Chicago would be $2,500. The city and the Sanitary District No. 1 would each pay half, according to Councilman C. W. D. Kinsey.

Kinsey told the council Monday that three months are needed to set up a plan to submit to the railroads whose bridges cross Antelope creek.

"Unless we have a plan, we can't go to the railroads," he added.

Kinsey suggested that action be taken so that the survey could be made before Jan. 1. He stated that this would make it possible for the railroads to get any expenditures entered in their 1952 budgets.

Although informal approval was given for the survey, the council must vote on the survey question to make it official.

Henry Amen, chairman of the Sanitary district No. 1, told The Star no immediate plans had been made for arranging the survey. He stated a special meeting of the Sanitary board would be called in the near future.

When asked about a survey of the Salt creek watershed, Amen stated that he is sure the Chicago firm would survey that creek as well as Antelope.

He said the city would not be in on paying for the Salt creek survey.

Ask Sewer Bids

The city clerk was authorized Monday to advertise for bids on a sanitary relief sewer on Twenty-fifth from C to E streets. The project, according to City Engineer D. L. Erickson, is estimated to cost $2,500 and is part of the overall flood control program authorized in the new city budget.

Plans were also approved for a water district on Fremont from Sixty-first to Sixty-third at an estimated cost of $2,800.

Parks Director Places
$33,880.47 With City

Deposits made with the city treasurer by the office of the director of parks, public property and improvements, totaled $33,880.47, according to a report filed with the city clerk.

Receipts were listed:
Aviation, $5,592; inspection, $11,111.76; airport improvements, $6,895.61. Under general fund, engineers, $2,469; parks, $788; paving repair, $4,947.03; plumbing inspection, $1,751.75; roads, $244.81.

Addition To Elgin Plant Begins Here

The first upright girder for a two-story addition to the Elgin Watch company's Lincoln plant was bolted into place Monday by James G. Shennan, Elgin, Ill., president of the company.

Ceremonies atop the roof of the building at Seventeenth and W took place in the presence of Elgin officials and Lincoln civic leaders. Shennan, in a short statement, said he didn't expect to be putting an addition on the building just five years after he first looked over the plant.

The Elgin plant opened operations here in 1946. It presently employs about 1,700 skilled employees.

Watch to Museum

Just preceding the ceremonies atop the building, Shennan watched George Crist, foreman of assembling at the Lincoln plant, case the first of Elgin's second 50,000,000 watches.

With a case and plates gilded with 24 karat gold, the watch will go into Elgin's museum at Elgin, Ill. It is the first watch of Elgin to bear a higher serial number than 50,000,000.

Shennan said the watch was a product of all Elgin workers and "certainly a tribute to them as well as the company."

E. G. Jurs, factory manager, introduced Shennan.

Welcome Speech

A luncheon at the Cornhusker hotel for the group, which also toured the Elgin plant during the morning, brought forth speeches of welcome and congratulations from Al DuTeau, president of the chamber of commerce, and Archie Bailey, chamber manager.

Shennan also spoke briefly. He said it has taken 87 years and some 30,000 people to turn out the 50,000,000 Elgin watches.

"Lincoln's contribution to this number is about three and a half million," Shennan said. "This is a fine record for the plant."

29th and Vine Bus Stop Is Requested

A petition asking for a bus stop at the Twenty-ninth and Vine intersection and signed by 59 residents of that vicinity was filed with the city clerk.

The petition stated that there is no stop between Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth streets. The matter was referred to Safety Director Ray Osborn.

Ask Zoning Change For 12th and J Parking Lot

An application filed with the city clerk asks for a zoning of property on the northwest corner of 12th and J streets for use as a parking lot. The property is now in apartment class zoning. The application was under the name of Capital Parking garage.

Approaching Frostline Last Obstacle For Corn To Dodge

Jack Frost is marching ominously out of the northwest and Nebraska's fields of immature corn lie directly in his path.

Held back by a cold and rainy summer, the corn that survived washing rains, delayed cultivation and hailstorms is still soft and green. The approaching frostline, usually hitting the state about Sept. 20 is the one last obstacle still to be dodged.

The Sept. 20 frost arrival date usually affects the northern Cherry county region only. Frost line dates for other regions in the state are: The panhandle: Sept. 30, north central and middle Platte valley, Oct. 5, east-central, Oct. 10, southeast corner, Oct. 15.

There is much uncertainty in this vital race. The weather bureau reports that there is no relationship between the type of summer and the arrival date of the killing frost. The frost has been known to vary as much as a month from its average arrival date for a given locality.

Whenever the frost comes, of course, there the corn development stops. Immature corn will go as silage and feed, in these fields where the corn began to dent early in the August warm spell, the ears will dry in the husk and wait the picker.

The effects of some killing frosts cannot be seen for several days after the freeze, and then only in delicate plants. With other frosts, usually in cold, dry air, the plant leaves quickly shrivel and turn a dark color. Cold air, being heavier, usually runs to the lowest levels, and can cause frost there when highland temperatures are several degrees above freezing level.

President Of Argentina Hit By Ex-Envoy

NEW YORK —(AP)— Spruille Braden, former U.S. ambassador to Argentina, said Monday that in 1945 Juan Peron "threatened to have me and the American newsmen in Argentina assassinated."

Peron, now president of Argentina, then was vice president and head of the ministries of war and labor.

During his five months as ambassador, Braden frequently spoke out against Peron. (In Buenos Aires the presidential press office and other government officials declined comment on Braden's story.)

Writing in Tuesday's issue of Look magazine, Braden said: "Our first meeting was most cordial. Then, in my second interview with him (Peron), he let his hair down. He threatened to have me and the American newsmen in Argentina assassinated."

Braden said he protested. He continued: "Waldo Frank, the writer, already had been brutally beaten in the streets of Buenos Aires by nationalist hoodlums. So had a United Press correspondent. And Arnaldo Cortesi of the New York Times had been threatened with physical violence by the minister of interior."

"Peron was not joking. He told me bluntly that there were opposition elements in agriculture and labor, in business, education and the professions that had to be wiped out."

Should Surprise Nobody "He added that American newsmen were known to be 'conspiring' with these elements, just as I had been known to be 'conspiring' with a bishop and a university rector (who happened to be prominent democratic figures in Argentina) and leading industrialists, merchants and farmers."

"Peron said he would be powerless to prevent the 'fanatics' who adore me' from assassinating the newsmen and myself. 'Experiences like this should surprise nobody who has seen the way Peron operates. Any resemblance that may remain today between life in Argentina under Peron and democracy and liberty is a travesty on the words. Yet we have kept on trying to do business with Peron.'"

Braden, who also was formerly assistant secretary of state for American republic affairs, contended that the United States in its Latin American policy in the past four years, has "vacillated, pussyfooted, compromised and sold its soul in the name of expediency."

Accidents Fatal To 6

State's Fatality Toll Rises To 217

Nebraska's 1951 highway fatality toll stands at 217, following the deaths of six persons over the week-end. The total is 21 more than on this date last year.

The latest victims:

Max Tschaburn, 43, Hastings, Neb.

Thomas C. Beezley, 81, Syracuse, Neb.

Ed Morley, 71, Avoca, Neb.

Anna Morley, 71, his wife.

James Long, 15, Beatrice, Neb.

Chris Voss, 72, Norfolk, Neb.

Associated Press dispatches disclosed that Tschaburn died Sunday in a Sutherland hospital of accident injuries sustained last Tuesday.

Tschaburn suffered a severe compound fracture of the skull when his car struck the parked trailer of a semitrailer truck. The truck was leased by Union Freightways and had been parked east of Big Springs on U.S. highway 30 all day when it was struck by Tschaburn's car.

Beezley died in a Nebraska City hospital Saturday of injuries suffered also last Tuesday night when he was struck by a truck near Palmyra. He was believed to have been hitchhiking home after visiting relatives.

Morley died Monday of injuries received in the accident which brought instant death to his wife, Anna. The collision occurred Sunday east of Lincoln on Highway 34.

The driver of the second car involved in the crash with the Morley vehicle was Joyce E. Stahnke of Villisca, Ia. She was not hurt, but her father, Rev. Herbert Stahnke of Villisca, suffered a broken shoulder and dislocated hip.

The Long youth was killed Sunday when a car in which he was riding was in collision with a car driven by Wesley B. Kassing of Lincoln.

Investigating officers said the Kassing car and one driven by William M. Nickels of Beatrice collided in Beatrice.

Voss died Saturday night when he was struck by a car driven by Eugene Hartman of Norfolk. The patrol reported that Voss apparently was walking or standing in the middle of the highway when the mishap occurred.

Happy Anniversary — To Us

WE CELEBRATED AN ANNIVERSARY on Monday — eight months ago yesterday we were as happy as a lark on our first morning paper — We're still happy as lark — even happier — We still love the idea of having all of the news first — All we need, usually, is a place to put it.

But not even the lack of space can dampen our ardor for the rosy, rosy mornings — and this an especially gay one — not because we have any more deep secrets to tell, but because everything seems to be falling into place for the autumn and winter activities —

TAKE THE HOMECOMERS, for instance — almost all of them are home — This morning we found some belated ones, however — Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Thompson, their daughter, Kiki, and their son, Arthur, who returned Sunday evening from a few weeks vacation spent in New York City and Nantucket, Mass.

THEN WE LEARNED of some homecomers who planned in Monday evening — For Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Manter it was a real homecoming — they have been away since last February when Dr. Manter, professor of zoology at the University of Nebraska, was granted a Fulbright scholarship and, with Mrs. Manter, left for New Zealand.

En route home the Manters spent three weeks in the Fiji Islands, and also devoted several days to Hawaii. New Zealand, being at the far side of the world, has a little trouble with such things as mail — and freight — Dr. and Mrs. Manter, for example, continued to take The Star during their period in New Zealand — They received the April 30 edition in mid-August — but read it avidly, they wrote, in spite of the lateness — Their trucks arrived just in time to send home — which, of course, saved them the trouble of packing —

Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Washburn drove to Omaha Monday evening to meet the Manters who arrived by plane from San Francisco.

ANOTHER OF THE homecomers

Dietetics Group Installs Officers

Installation of officers for the present club year will be held at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Lincoln Institutional Directors and Dietitians association, to be held at 7:45 o'clock in the lounge of the college of agriculture foods and nutrition building.

The new officers are Esther Eisenbarth, president; Joanna Lager, vice-president; Frances Paulson, secretary; and Florence Dunn, treasurer.

Miss Margaret Fedde, guest speaker for the meeting, will speak on her experiences in Germany, where she spent most of the past year as a home economics advisor, representing the State department on the High Commission on Germany. Miss Fedde is the retired chairman of the University of Nebraska home economics department.

ers is Mrs. Carl Weil, who returned to Lincoln the past week-end from Evergreen, Colo., where she spent the summer as the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Weil, and their two children, Cheryl, and Carl, II.

THEN WE FOUND some guests — Mr. and Mrs. Ted Becker and their daughter, Barbara, who have come from Inglewood, Cal., for a visit with relatives in Lincoln and Beatrice.

LAST EVENING there was a meeting of the Circle theater membership committee at Hotel Cornhusker, and we hear that there were many, many willing hands present, all volunteering to collect new members for the approaching season. Mrs. M. W. Anderson is chairman of the Circle's theater membership committee.

Lincoln people — especially Beta Theta Pi circles and campus groups of some-odd years ago, will be particularly interested in the Circle's first production, "Good Housekeeping," because it was written by William McCleery, formerly of Blue Hill — now of New York City — and Beta Theta Pi at the University of Nebraska — This is the play, as you may remember, that Helen Hayes purchased as a vehicle for her daughter, Mary, who soon after was fatally stricken with polio.

SPEAKING OF the thea-tah — Heard that when the Hayloft rings down the curtain on its final performance next Sunday evening, the cast will be entertained at a waffle supper for which Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Andrews will be host and hostess at their home.

TODAY IS THE day that Miss Marilyn Woltemade, whose marriage to Ronald Cross is an event of Thursday evening, has chosen to announce the members of the bridal party — For her matron of honor Miss Woltemade will have her sister, Mrs. Duane Anthony, of Bloomington, Ind., and her bridesmaids will be Miss Mickey Walt and Miss Beverly Hamel. Miss Karen Cross, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Carol Ann Strehlo, cousin of the bride, will light the candles. Linda Cross, sister of the bridegroom, will be the flower girl, while Nancy Kay Strehlo will carry the ring.

Bob Freck will serve Mr. Cross as best man, and the ushers will be Jack Meisinger and Bill Misko.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Otto Woltemade will preside at dinner at Cotner Terrace, complementing their daughter and Mr. Cross. The twenty-one guests will include the families and the bridal party.

MISS SHARON LUCILE VOORHEES

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Miss Sharon Lucile Voorhees to Robert G. Walgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Walgren of Waukena, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Voorhees of Waukena.

A former student of the University of Nebraska, Miss Voorhees is a member of Delta Delta Delta, Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority and of both the University Singers and Madrigal Singers. She is a past Honored Queen of Job's Daughters and a member of Eastern Star and Chapter X, P.E.O.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, October 20, and will be solemnized at San Diego, Cal., where Mr. Walgren is stationed with the navy.

YWCA Craft Center Classes

Mrs. Clarence G. Miles, committee chairman for the Y.W.C.A. craft center, has announced the classes, instructors and schedules for the fall term of craft classes to be conducted by the center. Registration is being held this week for the classes, at the Y.W.C.A. desk, between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Both men and women are invited to register for the courses, which offer the opportunity to learn a creative craft. And with Christmas not too far away, the craft classes also present the opportunity for the creation of hand-made gifts.

Mrs. Raymond Williamson will instruct the class in textile painting and Mrs. Charles Colman will conduct the class in leather work. Beginning and advanced weaving will be taught by Mrs. Daniel Stubbs, and the class in ceramics will be taught by Mrs. S. J. Fieselman. A new course—wood carving—which has been added this fall, will be conducted by Ervin Goeller, well-known Lincoln artist in wood.

The classes will meet once weekly for twelve weeks, with the exception of the ceramics class, which will continue for eight weeks.

The opening classes in each course will be held as follows:

Leather — Monday evening, September 17, 7 to 9:30 p.m.
Advanced Weaving — Tuesday morning, September 11, 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon, and Wednesday afternoon, September 19, 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Schools Profiting From Re-Auction Of Land Leases

BY ARCH DONOVAN
(Star Staff Writer)

State school funds are profiting in sizable amounts as a result of a supreme court decision prohibiting automatic renewal of leases of school land and requiring that they be offered at auction.

At its meeting Monday, the state school board approved lease on a section of land in Deuel county to Rayney C. Whitney, for which he offered the top bonus of $10,200. Lease to this land led to the court decision.

Fred Ebke, when the lease expired, offered a bonus of $2,500 to obtain the lease. It was refused by the board under a law providing that lease holders should be given renewals if they so desired. Ebke appealed to the courts and the law was found unconstitutional, and the board was instructed to offer all expired leases at auction.

Whitney previously had the lease and it will be renewed on the basis of his bid. He obtained the lease on assignment from the previous holder two or three years before it expired, paying about $10,000 at that time.

Also approved was a lease carrying a bonus of $12,000 for a section of school land in Hayes county. It previously had been held by an estate and renewal was halted by the court decision.

The board instructed the secretary to place leases now held by servicemen at the bottom of the renewal list made necessary by the court decision.

The situation was called to the attention of the board by a lease holder now serving in Korea, who said it would be impossible for him to return by date of the sale to bid on the land he was farming before induction into the service.

"It will take at least a year before we can catch upon the backlog of leases we are required to sell," Attorney General C. S. Beck told The Star. "We think that in all fairness to the men in service that we should give them every opportunity to appear or be properly represented when the lease is sold on land they now operate."

More than 1,000 lease were affected by the court decision and sales have to be advertised in the county where the land is located.

New Assistance Program Plans To Be Heard

The state board of control will meet Tuesday to hear the recommendations of a special eight-member committee of county assistance workers for changes in administration of the program.

The recommendations will be considered by the board and an advisory committee of county commissioners.

Presumably this information will then be given the new business manager, Meyer Andovich, for use in working out reorganization plans of the board.

It was proposed during the last session of the legislature that $40,000 be appropriated to employ a business engineering firm to make reorganization recommendations. This plan was dropped on the suggestion of the board of control. They said they would have a survey made and employ a business manager to carry out the plans.

With other leases coming due all the time, the board will require considerable time to conduct all sales.

County assistance directors were asked to make such a survey and submit recommendations. They met in Lincoln Monday to complete their report. Members of the committee are:

Ardyth Hall, Cass, chairman; Leroy Hultberg, Lancaster; Ernest T. Lindgren, Hall; Bernice B. Green, Pawnee; Elsie Ruda, Platte; Zeola E. Barnes, Box Butte; Mrs. Cleo Belle Gummere, Dundy; Philip Vogt, Douglas.

Greenwood Blast Victims' Condition Is Unchanged

The condition of Mr. and Mrs. Orville L. Sandy, Greenwood, who were severely burned in an explosion Sunday at their home, was reported as "very much the same" Monday night.

Mrs. Sandy, 48, was in fair condition. The condition of her husband, 53, remained good.

Sandy had just started an air-conditioning unit to clear the house of gas fumes when the explosion occurred. The house was almost completely destroyed.

Lt. Schneider, Lincoln, Wounded Again In Korea

First Lt. Howard E. Schneider, Lincoln, has been wounded a second time in the Korean war. Lt. Schneider, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schneider of 1023 North Ninth, was "slightly wounded" on Aug. 27, the defense department reported.

He also was wounded last April in action which resulted in a battlefield promotion. Lt. Schneider received his commission as a regular army officer in June, 1950, on completion of the R.O.T.C. course at the University of Nebraska.

Blocking During Sunday Game Troubles Glassford

Stranahan Bounced From U.S. Amateur In 1st Round

By WILL GRIMSLEY
BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Frustrated Frank Stranahan's ninth bid for a United States amateur golf championship was shattered in the first round Monday by a 29-year-old week-end player from Larchmont, N. Y., who staged a spectacular rally to win on the 20th hole.

Perpetrator of the day's major upheaval over the Saucon Valley Country club was Robert Kuntz, a perfectly relaxed chemical company salesman who seemed hopelessly beaten when Stranahan assumed a three-hole lead through the tenth and was two-up with two to play.

But the never-say-die Kuntz nailed brilliant birdies on the 17th and 18th to square the match, equalled Stranahan's birdie on the 19th and then went on to prevail on a well-played par on the 20th.

HOPES DASHED

Stranahan's hopes were dashed on the second extra hole when he hooked into the rough, pitched and chipped short and then missed a miserable six-foot putt to take a one-over-par five.

Defeat of the spark plug heir from Toledo, a two-time British Amateur champion, was just one in a wave of opening day surprises.

Former Champion Stanley (Ted) Bishop of Weston, Mass., and two of Uncle Sam's Walker Cup stars, Bill Campbell of Huntington, West Va., and Bobby Knowles of Boston, were shunted to the sidelines.

Campbell, spraying his shots all over the premises, was the victim of Lloyd Hubner of White Plains, 4 and 2. The smiling West Virginian went six over par on the first nine holes.

Bishop, the tall 1946 champion, fell before Billy Joe Patton, a fluid-stroking 29-year-old lumber salesman from Morgantown, N. C., 4 and 2. Knowles bowed to Robert E. Eckis, Jr., a 27-year-old comparative unknown from Kenmore, N. Y., one up.

URZETTA STRIKES GOLD

While these golfing elite were having their miseries, Defending Champion Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N. Y., struck putting gold on Saucon's massive greens and swept forward a 4 and 3 victory over Eugene Zupanski, 36-year-old lawyer from Goodland, Kans.

The champion, unhooking the finest golf of the day, sank three putts of 25 feet and longer to eliminate the heavy-set Kansas, a former Broadmoor champion and Trans-Miss runnerup.

Seventy-two matches were played during the long day under cloudless skies, sending 128 into today's second round.

Willie Turnesa of Elmford, N. Y., Walker Cup captain and two-time winner, and three other members of the U.S. team drew first round byes. Other Walker Cup members to get out of the first day's activities were Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, 1949 champion; Jim McHale of Philadelphia, a strong favorite; and Harold Padlock of Cleveland.

Gil Turner Lulls Ike In 10th Heat

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Gil Turner, sensational young welterweight, ran his unbeaten string to 24 Monday night with a dynamic two-fisted attack that halted former Lightweight Titlist Ike Williams at 2:32 of the 10th and final round of their bout at Shibe Park.

The defeat all but finished Williams as a big time boxer. He just ran out of gas against his younger opponent, who rallied in the last round to sock Williams silyly.

FIGHT HALTED

Referee Pete Tomasco stopped the fight with Williams draped across the rope, his knees crumpling beneath Turner's vicious attack.

Young Turner, who is only 20 years old, scored his 21st knockout in his brief, 18-month career as a professional.

His victory stamped him as a logical contender for the welterweight title now held by Kid Gavilan.

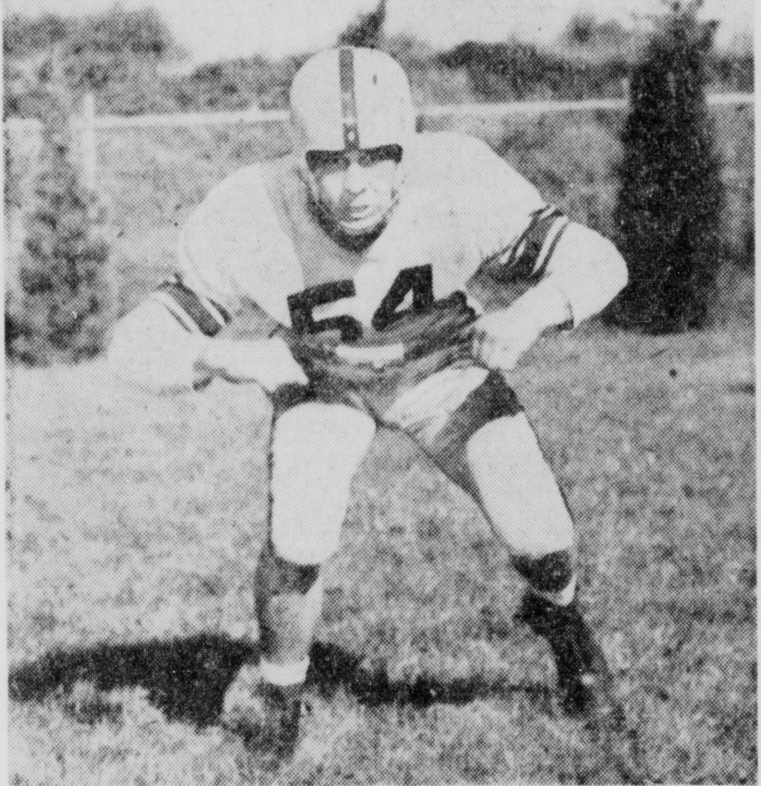

Up until the 10th, when Turner put on a slight edge, The Associated Press score card had Ike in the lead, four rounds to three, with two even if that close.

The crowd of 15,595, who paid $64,167, whooped and hollered from start to finish in the slam-bang contest that was fast and spirited from the initial bell.

Can A's Hurt Tribe's Chances? Tonight's Games Hold Answer

BY JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK—(AP)—The 24-hour cease-fire order ends today as the pennant combatants in the American league resume action with Cleveland opposing Philadelphia, New York facing St. Louis and Boston meeting Detroit.

Most of the interest will stem from Philadelphia, where the Indians play a two-night doubleheader, their last scheduled twin bill of the campaign. The Yankees and Browns also play a two-nighter while the Red Sox-Tigers battle is a single afternoon contest.

The Indians are not in an enviable spot although they trail the pace-setting Yankees by only four percentage points. Manager Al Lopez's charges couldn't have picked a tougher spot in which to open their final eastern swing. Right now, the Athletics, despite their sixth place standing, are the roughest club in the league.

GIANT KILLERS

Fresh from Sunday's double win over the Red Sox, which dumped Boston five and a half games behind the leaders, the A's are fast gaining a reputation as giant killers.

The A's plan to shoot Lefties Alex Kellner and Sam Zoladak against the Indian tonight. The record of neither is impressive, but both have hurried effectively against the Tribe this season.

Cleveland plans to use Bob Feller (22-7) and Mike Garcia (10-11). Both have whipped the A's three out of four times.

On the other hand, the Yankees figure to find the cellar Browns easy pickin's even though they are due to face Ned Garver and Tommy Byrne, St. Louis' most effective pitchers. Garver a world beater against Cleveland and Boston, has lost all four starts against the Yankees. The best can be said of Byrne, the ex-

A's Lose Pair To Sioux City

SIoux CITY, Ia.—(AP)—Sioux City's Soos took both ends of a doubleheader from Lincoln here Monday night, notching the opener by 6-5 in 10 innings and the seven-inning nightcap, 7-4.

Ed Monahan, fourth Sioux City pitcher, singled to open the 10th inning of the first game, moving up on a sacrifice and Ray Berns' single. When Bob Reid hit a roller to First Sacker Tom Hamilton, Monahan slid under Hamilton's peg to the plate with the winning run.

Lincoln reached Sam Brewer for all its runs in this, with Hamilton lashing a three-run homer in the fifth, one with a single and Ed Boehm accounting for the other on an outfield fly.

Bob Giddins, appearing in his 50th game of the season to tie the postwar league record for pitching appearances set last year by Denver's Virgo Iester, was the winner in the nightcap. He pitched four hitless innings and retired after giving up all three Lincoln hits and the A's four runs in the 11th. Brewer collared the A's the last two innings.

Troubles Glassford Defensive Bright Spots Draw Praise From Chief, However

By NORRIS ANDERSON
 (Sports Editor, The Star)

CURTIS, Neb.—"We are going to have to teach someone how to block," grimly declared Headmaster J. William Glassford of the Nebraska Cornhuskers Monday.

Glassford was referring to his squad's showing in a regulation game scrimmage Sunday afternoon.

Along with the bitter, Bill added a bit of sweet. He admitted that the defense has "shown certain bright spots."

He listed the work in the defensive secondary of Sophomore Bobby Decker and Freshmen Bob Smith and Ken Moore as particularly encouraging.

In the line, Glassford complimented the defensive work of Bob Mullen, Connellsville, Pa., senior; Dick Goll, Tekamah junior, and Ed Hushman, Ogallala junior. Glassford as leading the blockers for. Three of the men listed by did not participate Sunday because of injuries. They were Tackle George Prochaska and Ends George Paynich and Bill Giles.

Scrimmage On Tap For Frosh

... Four Leave Squad

Freshman Coach Ike Hanscom has announced that four more freshman gridders have left the squad.

Coach Hanscom failed to mention any names but said he would release a new list on Wednesday.

Next Monday will be the big day for many Nebraska freshman as over 60 boys are expected to check out gear and work with the yearlings.

Hanscom and his assistants are eagerly awaiting the arrival of the new boys.

With the Varsity - Freshman game less than two weeks off, the Freshmen will have to continue their rapid improvement in order to keep pace with the injury-ridden varsity.

A live scrimmage is slated for today for the frosh and more of the same can be expected daily.

Other blockers winning the maestro's plaudits were Tackle Dick Regier, End Dennis Emanuel and Guard Kay Curtis.

A new wave of injuries struck the squad Monday as warm sunshine prompted Glassford to concentrate on fundamentals.

Out of action were Guards Tony Winey, Don Glants and Carl Brasee; Tackles Goll and Harvey Goll; Ends Jerry Paulson and Giles and Halfback Emil Radick. End Tom Harrington was sent home to York to recover from the flu.

Two new injuries occurred Monday when Halfback Dick Weston and Center Dick Watson were jolted.

If the weatherman cooperates and some of the disabled recover, Glassford said he would plan another game scrimmage Tuesday. "In fact, from now on, we will be scrimmaging every day," he said.

He noted that the offense was behind last year.

In view of the substantial injury list the scout squad has temporarily been disbanded with members summoned to fill gaps in the Red and White squads.

Glassford said there would be a game scrimmage Wednesday "if at all possible" and another on Saturday. The camp will close after the Saturday session.

LHS Gridders' Parents, Coaches Get Acquainted

Parents of Lincoln high school varsity football players had a unique opportunity Monday night to meet the coaches and the parents of their sons' teammates at an informal gathering sponsored by Head Coach Bill Pfeiff.

The program, attended by some 75 players and parents, follows up the annual "football open house" held last Friday by all three schools, and gives parents a better opportunity to know the coaches who direct their sons' gridders activities.

This is the third year that members of the Links coaching staff have played host to the parents of LHS gridders.

Mothers and fathers heard informal talks by Coach Pfeiff and Line Coach Ed Schwartzkopf. Lincoln high school Principal William Bogar also spoke to the gathering. Pfeiff explained the aims and policies of the coaching staff regarding such matters as practice, training and conduct on trips. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Pfeiff and Mrs. Bogar following the talks.

Husker Profile

DICK REGIER

Although Dick has lettered the past two years as an offensive end Coach Glassford is changing the 210-pounder to tackle to take advantage of his speed and blocking ability. Regier was slowed down the last two seasons with a shoulder injury but is in perfect shape after the operation. performed on his shoulder last spring was a success. Dick is one of the tough boys on the squad and has little regard for his body. Barring injuries the California youth should have a great year at tackle for the Cornhuskers.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day if it is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 4. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Our manners seem to be improving... A fellow who tried to throw his bride out a hotel window later admitted he might have lost his head.

And no one will forget the glowing tribute paid the other night to General MacArthur by the man who bounced him... Although in this case nothing was said about losing head.

Then there is the delicate exchange of compliments between Senators Benton of Connecticut and McCarthy of Wisconsin always couched in the most delightful language.

McCarthy's reference to Benton as "that mental midget" is no off-hand compliment... It shows thought and a sort of affectionate casual grace.

And Benton's efforts to bounce McCarthy out of the senate indicate a continuing regard for the Wisconsin man's welfare... Anyone knows that the office of senator is arduous and wearing.

It's a wonder that the business of the country ever gets done with the little pauses here and there for the kind word, the graceful phrase.

QUIRKS

BALTIMORE — Patrick Dooley was watching a fire—from a distance of two blocks.

There was a fire alarm box right beside him.

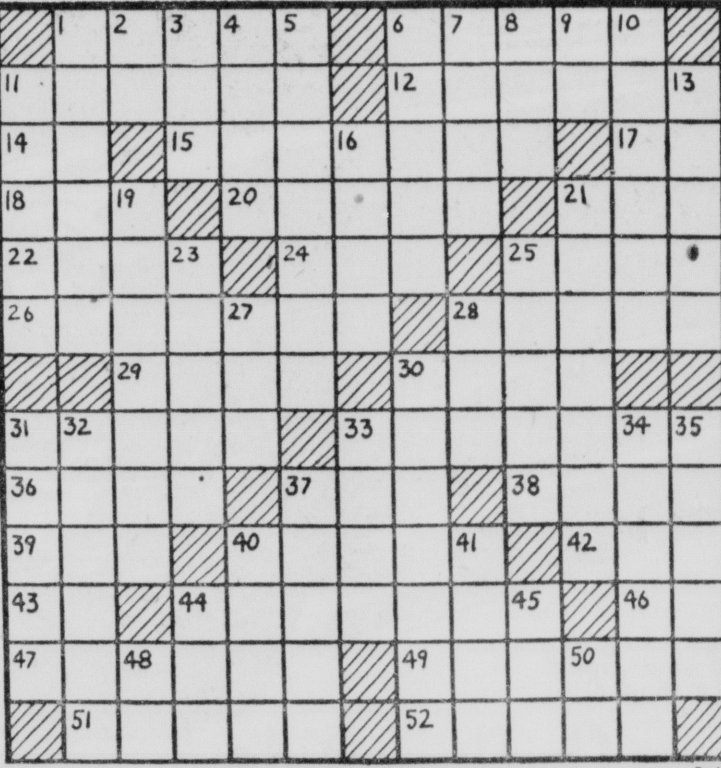

He pulled the alarm so he could "see some excitement," he explained later to Patrolman William Ervin.

"But why didn't you just walk two blocks up the street if you wanted to see some fire trucks?" asked the perplexed officer.

"Let them come down here where I am," countered Dooley. Judge E. Paul Mason listened to Dooley's story, shook his head and sentenced him to eight months in the house of correction.

Lincoln Man Dies Suddenly On Visit

Funeral services for Charles C. Dakena, 53, Lincoln resident who died unexpectedly Sunday while visiting at Johnson, Neb., will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at St. John's Lutheran church in Beatrice.

A Lincolnite for the past four years, Mr. Dakena resided at 1305 South Nineteenth street. Prior to coming to Lincoln, he lived at Odell. He was a native of Germany.

Surviving are his wife, Josie; two daughters, Mrs. Lois Bures and Mrs. Richard Bitosh, both of Odell. The Dakenas were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Blinde at Johnson at the time of Mr. Dakena's death.

In China the peach tree is thought of variously as the tree of life and the tree of death. It is also associated with love and with longevity.

OLDER FOLKS OFTEN HAVE "TIRED" BLOOD

As you get older, when your color is bad and you feel tired, "all in," the chances are as high as 8 in 10 your blood is below par. Then it's time to try Geritol—the scientific blood tonic made especially for people over 35. Pale, weak, blood leaves you "tired" and "blue." Red, healthy blood goes with dynamic energy—invents that "million dollar" feeling. Geritol's action is amazing—within 24 hours Geritol iron appears in your blood. Geritol also contains remarkable Vitamin B<sub>12</sub>, the wonders of which were described by Reader's Digest. If your doctor says you need an iron-blood tonic—get Geritol at your drugstore today. See how much better you feel as your color improves and tiredness goes.
